Moke Californian

The Moke Is Back

Back home in Britain—one of the cult vehicles from the Swinging Sixties and immortalised in the TV Series 'The Prisoner', the charismatic Moke is now available in 80's 'Californian' specification.

In an age when so many cars look alike, the Moke 'Californian' stands apart, certain to create a great deal of attention wherever it is driven.

Powered by the ubiquitous 998cc Mini engine and featuring a special light-weight, rugged monocoque steel chassis, the Moke comes packed with extras. Such as twin high-backed seats, hefty nudge bars both front and back, an extra-strength roll-over bar, 13" alloy wheels, excellent heater and up-rated instrumentation. Plus more. The specially designed, simple-to-fit all-weather gear ensures that you never need worry about the climate—making open-top driving second to none.

For the driver, the Moke has inherited all the legendary Mini roadholding capabilities—quick off the line, well-balanced and predictable, plus highly controllable both on and off the road. And, to top it all—the Moke gives you miles of fun per gallon and low insurance grouping with the added advantage that if you knock a panel or two it won't cost you a fortune for repairs.

All helping to give motorists an economical, appealing, low-cost alternative—ready to roll on any road or track. Prices start from £4100 (Ex delivery & Plates).
